

TAKE A LOOK DON'S BLOG 2018.09.17

Should this bother us? Note the times public opinion was not worried about the economy – 1999, 2007, and now. Also, when was the last time worry was at an all-time high: February 2009. The stock market hit its low early in March of that year.

As Mark Twain said, “history does not repeat itself, but is sure does rhyme.”

Adapted from gallup.com